ORGANIC SOOTHING GEL

dr. Alkaitis products are based on 100% certified Organic Aloe Vera Gel. Not on water, like most other products.

A comforting treatment containing vitamins B and C, french lavender and wild chamomile for powerful anti-bacterial, anti-inflammatory and anti-viral properties.

Perfect for the treatment of troubled and inflammatory skin conditions such as eczema, rosacea or acne.

Ideal for use after any hair removal procedure or for when skin is generally irritated or reactive and needs calming. It will also leave the skin moisturised.

120ml - 100% Active

ORGANIC ENZYME EXFOLIATING MASK

You cannot halt the aging process, but you can effect the way you age.

This fully organic biological skin peel is ideal for those who want deep exfoliating but are looking for a natural alternative to chemical peels.

Ingredients such as naturally exfoliating enzymes of bromelain and papain (from pineapple and papaya) clear accumulated debris and dead skin cells, while essential phyto-nutrients and antioxidant strawberry and blueberry extracts help to brighten skin.

The result is a fresher and clearer complexion without the side effects associated with chemical peels.

100ml - 20 treatments - 100% Active

ORGANIC UNIVERSAL MASK

The best way to understand a product is to read the ingredients list.

The ultimate therapeutic treatment mask which nourishes, calms and rejuvenates sensitive, irritated and inflamed skin. Packed full of biologically active ingredients such as Grass Juice, vegetables, seaweeds and seeds, this is a true skin food.

Ingredients are activated by combining with goats milk yoghurt, honey or water to release a vitamin and mineral rich live treatment, feeding the skin vital nutrients it needs.

Particularly beneficial after salon treatments such as skin peels and micro-dermabrasion, for mature skin, or any skin type needing a boost.

100ml - 20 treatments - 100% Active

ORGANIC FLOWER MASK

dr. Alkaitis is a holistic anti-aging regime for the skin

An activating and energizing mask that will bring a sallow, lifeless complexion to life. It leaves the skin glowing while improving the overall skin tone.

This is an active mask and is not recommended for those with acne and sensitive skin.

Excellent for oily and normal skin conditions, may also be used as an exfoliating scrub.

100ml - 20 treatments - 100% Active

ORGANIC CELLULAR REPAIR MASK

Making clean formulations give dr. Alkaitis a clean conscious.

Repairs, regenerates, and fortifies your environmentally damaged and or ageing skin. This mask contains real strawberries. Do not use when allergic to strawberries.

100ml - 20 treatments - 100% Active

All masks are biologically active and made from pre-digested ingredients increasing their therapeutic potential. By adding moisture to the mask, these unique ingredients are brought to life and in turn allow the skin to fully absorb their nutrients.

dr. Alkaitis™

HOLISTIC ORGANIC SKIN CARE

dr. Alkaitis is a high performance, "living" skincare line, created by the highly regarded and world-renowned scientist, dr. Saulius Anthony Alkaitis.

Combining an in-depth scientific understanding with an extensive knowledge of the therapeutic properties of plants in their pure form, dr. Alkaitis is like no other "dr." brand out there.

dr. Alkaitis uses certified organic, biodynamic and ethically wild-crafted ingredients in their raw state for the greatest effectiveness. There has to be no compromise with any of the ingredients and processes in order to deliver the very best results for your skin.

Living skincare

dr. Alkaitis treats the skin as a living organ, and if you feed an organ healthy "living" food it will be healthier; dr. Alkaitis' extracts and products are all made in-house ensuring they contain only "living" ingredients.

"Living" means the highest-quality plants, left in their natural state, rather than having their potency diluted in a laboratory.

Plant extracts are often broken down into "actives", taking what is seen as the therapeutic content, and discarding the rest. This goes against dr. Alkaitis' ethos of celebrating the full power of plants in their biological state.

All the extracts contained within dr. Alkaitis skincare are never heated above the body's temperature, so preserving and increasing their therapeutic benefits.

When we say pure, we mean it. You won't find the "plant derived" ingredients, GMO's, trans-fats (which the body finds hard to break down), synthetics, or chemicals that are common in most skincare products.

All dr. Alkaitis products are handmade from start to finish with Certified Organic & Wild Crafted Food-Grade Ingredients.

Skin conscious

Because it is a range of truly pure and natural skincare, dr. Alkaitis products work with your skin's natural functions – not against. Due to the "living" complexity of the formulations they act like adaptogens for the skin, adjusting to each individual's unique skin type, so bringing the skin into balance. Therefore you won't find separate products for oily, dry or sensitive "types".

The products correct the individual balance of the skin of each user to bring it to optimum health, and to quote dr. Alkaitis: "a healthy skin is a beautiful skin."

History in your hands

In working with "living" materials, dr. Alkaitis carries on an age-old and almost forgotten tradition. From the first civilisations, there has always been a sophisticated knowledge of the natural world.

This natural approach to healing has a long and honourable history of preserving the body's health and well-being.

In comparison, synthetic products have been in use for little more than a century, and their effects are still largely unknown.

Who is dr. Alkaitis?

A highly acclaimed research scientist, an expert authority on organics, molecular biologist, Ethnopharmacologist (the study of traditional ways of healing mainly with plants), a pharmacognosist (the study of the medicinal properties of plants), and with a Ph.D. in physical chemistry, dr. Alkaitis, has a wealth of knowledge that goes well beyond that of usual "dr." skincare brands.

As a research scientist working with cancer treatments including plant use, dr. Alkaitis became convinced there was a correlation between our society's dependence on synthetic chemicals and the rapid increase in cancer and other degenerative illnesses.

dr. Alkaitis uses his wealth of knowledge on the medicinal and therapeutic benefits of plants, to create skincare products that work with the health of the body. He does not tinker with them to create the synthetic hybrids common in today's skincare industry.

He has achieved a level of studies and research in plant life and their healing properties that few people have attained; these achievements qualify him to create the ultimate in true organic skincare, for you.

Why use dr. Alkaitis?

Skin sense

The skin is the body's biggest organ, and absorbs a large amount of the substances (both nutrients and toxins) that are put on it. This has an effect, not just on your skin but the way you feel both inside and out.

Our skin acts as a direct line to our health, showing us when there are internal imbalances or intolerances.

An organ that performs so many essential tasks needs proper attention and care.

By feeding it the finest therapeutic health food for the skin, Dr Alkaitis.

Chemical non-sense

When synthetic chemicals are used in cosmetic products, they can have an obstructive effect on the skin, blocking sebum and resulting in the formation of blackheads or inflammations.

Chemicals are also liable to dehydrate and clog the skin's important sweat glands, thus forming a threat to our health.

The raw materials for these synthetic chemicals are machine-made products. Since machines are extremely inflexible, the raw materials necessary to make these synthetic chemicals must be modified and adjusted to fit the machine. This makes them unfit not just for your skin, but for your body as well.

It is therefore no surprise that the use of synthetically processed and modified products clashes with the body's needs for natural ingredients and as a result always disrupts its natural balance.

dr. Alkaitis sense

Because of this, dr. Alkaitis, with a Ph.D. in physical chemistry, is well aware of the dangers of the many synthetic materials that have entered our modern lives.

dr. Alkaitis believes that caring for your skin is not just a quest toward superficial beauty, but actually a necessary part of your everyday health care.

Most skincare in today's market – even so-called "organic" and "natural" ranges - contains preservatives, additives and synthetic ingredients that don't support your skin's natural, healthy processes.

dr. Alkaitis developed his range, that combines the best of science and nature to create a skincare line that embraces a holistic approach to beauty.

‘Over the years, my wife would bring home a variety of skincare products, even from healthfood stores, and ask my opinion about them. Invariably my comment was, “I wouldn’t put that on my skin”.

One day I said, “I will make you products for which your skin will be eternally thankful’
